

Healthy Kansas Minute Radio Interview – National Infant Immunization Week

This is the Healthy Kansas Minute. I'm Sue Bowden, Director of the Immunization Program with the Kansas Department of Health and Environment. This is National Infant Immunization Week, designed to highlight the importance of protecting infants from vaccine-preventable diseases.

As a parent, you do what ever it takes to keep your baby healthy and safe. Immunizations can help protect them from 14 serious diseases. Ask your healthcare provider about the immunizations your children need – and make sure they have all of their shots.

To learn more about immunizing your children, please visit www.immunize.org. This has been the Healthy Kansas Minute.